June 20, 2012

Live Broadcast with anchor Jenny Hansson and reporter Alexis Del Cid

KOIN Local 6 News opening:

- Jenny Hansson provides brief overview regarding award for Mayor Denny Doyle and Beaverton, then introduces Alexis Del Cid who is live from Beaverton, across from the library near the solar hot house
- Alexis explains how the solar hot house provides energy for EV (electric vehicle) charging stations, stating it is one of the many reasons Beaverton is receiving national recognition
- Alexis continues talking about Beaverton's green initiatives such as
 - The natural gas powered garbage trucks
 - Upgrading over 750 street lamps to LED
 - Installing EV charging stations
 - Solar array at Beaverton City Library
 - Replacing trash cans with solar powered trash compactors
 - Planting 3700 trees
- And how they earned the Mayor and Beaverton national recognition with the 2012 Mayor's Climate Protection Award for efforts to reduce greenhouse gas
- Alexis Del Cid goes on to talk about Beaverton being recognized by state leaders, where the camera pans to Margi Hoffman, Governor's Energy Policy Advisory commending Mayor Doyle for sustainability efforts
- Film then shows Mayor Doyle at the podium issuing a challenge to all business and home owners to be "good stewards of the environment to keep Beaverton healthy, happy, vibrant and growing."
- Film then returns to Alexis Del Cid who mentions this is not the first time Beaverton has received national recognition for its green initiatives, mentioning the $1MM grant awarded to the city by the department of Housing and Urban Development
